

Nursery & Reception Example Remote Learning Timetable

Here is an example timetable for a day of remote learning at home. This is only an example – of course your day will need to fit best around your family at home. At very least, this timetable does give you an idea about the amount of time that you should be spending on each part of the remote learning. Sometimes it might take you a little longer, sometimes you might finish a little quicker – but don't rush through your work and if you're really struggling, ask for some help.
